Ask Citizens To Support State Guard

Organization Of Sierra Madre's Second Unit Gets Under Way

Asking that all local units of the Chamber of Commerce "give voice to our warm approval of the patriotic motives which have inspired the officers and men of the State Guard to volunteer for the protection of lives and property within our state at great personal sacrifice," the board of directors of the San Gabriel Valley Associated Chambers of Commerce has unanimously adopted a resolution aimed at promoting local assistance for all State Guard platoons and forwarded copies to all Chambers of Commerce in Southern California.

The resolution urges "every citizen—whether employer or employee—to give every possible support and encouragement to the California State Guard and especially to those units of the Guard which may be located in their home communities."

Men of the local platoon are drilling each Wednesday evening on the school grounds. Their excellent work at the mobilization of the 3rd Regiment (composite) of the Guard at Santa Anita Park recently has led to the formation of another unit here.

Men who have volunteered for the job of protecting their home community in any emergency are Otto Bailey, Charles H. Brown, W. J. Barlow, Harry Caskey, John Q. Copeland, Donald Damon, E. A. Davey, John E. Deimer, Bernard DeLeon, Noren Eaton, Arthur H. Embree, Hiram S. Embree, John FitzGerald, Harry E. Gabriel, Attilio A. Guardia, Elmer R. Garrison, Colin F. Hill, Ray R. Hudson, Homer L. Hunt, Roland Paul Lodge, Ed J. McDonough, Ralph Martin, Courtney Miles, Leo Mendel, Thomas Miller, Jr., Benj. F. Mobley, Henry Olson, Charles O. Peterson, Sam Perloff, Waverly E. Pratt, Leon A. Ray, Tom Schwartz, George J. Smith, Louis Sparks, Charles S. Speedie, Frank Spencer, Wm. Stoddart, Alfred Thurston, Milton Weber, Ernest Waterhouse, John Thompson, Ray Duran, Lewis George, Norman Nelson, Ray Pedigo, Bill Burke, LeRoy Davis, Issach Lunsford and Jose Alamillo.

Jack Young To Take Brain Operation For Old Injury

A severe head injury which he received 10 years ago when a car in which he was riding crashed into a Pacific Electric car at Sierra Madre and Michilinda blvds., sent Jack Young to the Hollywood hospital this week for a delicate brain operation.

Young, who formerly lived in this community, is a prominent makeup artist for one of the leading Hollywood studios. He has worked with Jeanette MacDonald and Gene Raymond and recently collapsed at the studio while with Raymond. During his residence in Sierra Madre Young was an active member of the younger group of the Congregational Church, and a Christian Endeavor leader. He attended Pasadena Junior College where he was student body president, and star baseball and football player. He was also prominently associated with Boy Scout activities in Sierra Madre.

Judge Marries Pair; License Issued To Vista Circle Girl

Interest in matrimonial field is kept alive this week by the consummation of one marriage and the promise of another.

Posted in Pasadena this week for intentions to wed are Earl Dennis Topping of 22 South Baldwin avenue, and Blanche Hamilton of Vista Circle drive.

Judge T. W. Neale officiated Monday at the marriage of Miss Gaila Hodgson of Monrovia to Albert Arnold Purser of Dayton, Tenn.

Postpone Meeting Of Arts Guild

Announcement has been made by the Sierra Madre Arts Guild that the regular monthly meeting and program have been postponed until July 11, so that members may enjoy the weekend holiday without interruption.

City Hall And Bank Close 3 Days; Stores To Open Saturday

Insuring a three day holiday for bank employees, R. C. Lewis, president of the Sierra Madre Savings Bank has announced that the bank will be closed Saturday morning as well as Friday. All clients of the bank are therefore reminded by Mr. Lewis to transact all necessary business on Thursday. The city hall will also be closed both Friday and Saturday.

Local stores and postoffice will be closed in observance of American Independence but will resume business on Saturday.

200 Register At Summer Bible School

Summer Bible School at Bethany church is maintaining its previous position in community life as attendance during the first two days this week was only slightly under 200.

Special days next week include Monday which has been designated "ice cream day"; Tuesday, when Miss Joy Ridderhof will present her Spanish Gospel readings between 10 and 11:30 a.m., speaking to all departments, using the "joyntetts," a new scripture message; and Thursday, which will be highlighted by the appearance of Miss Wilda Miller of the China Inland Mission, who is now a member of the teaching staff of the summer Bible school. All parents and friends are invited by Miss Ruth Needham to hear her talk. Mrs. Gebb has been added to the staff of teachers and helpers which now numbers 21.

USO Fund Campaign Lags Here; Only 53 Residents Aid

With Sierra Madre still lagging far behind foothill neighbors in supporting the national USO drive, the V.F.W., local sponsors, are able to announce only $168.50 subscribed during the last two weeks. To date only 53 of the approximate 5000 residents in this community have shown any inclination to support the drive which is being carried on so that men in Army Camps may have adequate recreation facilities. Those contributing during the last week were Mrs. Marian E. Barlow, Ella S. Bush, Carl Kiser, Doris Gullikson, St. Catherine's Guild and Clara L. Sykes. Joining the nationwide campaign for collection of aluminum articles, the VFW on July 14 will designate a spot in the downtown area where aluminum utensils will be collected. They will then be sold for use in national defense construction and the proceeds given to the USO.

Advise SRA Clients To Apply At Office In Alhambra

Mrs. A. Ruggie, director of general aid at the Alhambra Welfare department of the Los Angeles County Charities Department is advising all former SRA clients that they may make application for assistance with the Alhambra Welfare where food orders are being issued.

According to Mrs. Ruggie many work orders have been issued to applicants and everything possible will be done to take care of the present strained situation until some permanent plan is established.

Warm Weather For 4th Weekend

With every assurance that weather will continue warm over the weekend, Sierra Madreans are planning garden, tennis, badminton and swimming parties for the Fourth of July, when a clear, bright day is promised. Temperatures have remained moderate with typical July weather prevailing during the week. They have been as follows:

	Max.	Min.
June 26	82	53
June 27	74	56
June 28	75	53
June 29	80	53
June 30	80	60
July 1	78	59
July 2	82	57

Let's Remember

We celebrate our Independence Day, technically at peace, in a world aflame. But we have never deluded ourselves—and we must not now. Actually, we are at war! We are at war, not just because we are shipping munitions to Britain, but because our way of life—our Democracy—has been challenged; because there are abroad in the world powerful forces which are determined that men shall be returned to serfdom; because the dignity of man has been assailed by power-crazed sovereigns of State.

We have not yet been called upon to man machine guns; we have not yet been forced to run for shelter as bombers roar overhead. And we hope and pray that that day shall not come. But we are still at war, for in this era, as in every era that has gone before, eternal vigilance is still the price of liberty. There is no permanency guaranteed for any institution—even for Liberty—except that which we guarantee, as co-signers and co-defenders of our Declaration of Independence. That document isn't something which was signed, sealed and delivered back in 1776; that document is ours to enjoy, only if we safeguard it; only if we are willing to live and die for it.

Let's remember that, this Independence Day.

Baldwin Home To Be Girls School

Fashionable Institution Now At Flintridge Wants To Buy Estate

If the Los Angeles County Supervisors agree with a recent decision of the regional planning commission, the home estate of the late Anita M. Baldwin at the corner of Baldwin avenue and Foothill blvd. will soon be transformed into an exclusive girls school.

R. L. Kinsley, representative of Dexter Baldwin Jones, executrix of the estate, has petitioned the supervisors for approval of a rezoning of the property, now in a strictly residential zone.

Granting of the petition would bring the fashionable Flintridge School for Girls to this district, as Mrs. G. A. Rankin, president of the school, is seeking possession of the estate in order that she may expand the school in a more accessible location.

Present enrollment of girls of junior college and high school age would be increased from 60 to 75 and possibly to 100. The Flintridge School is now situated on a hilltop overlooking the Arroyo Seco in buildings formerly the Flintridge hotel.

The Baldwin estate of 20 acres is known as Anoaika, a combination of the first and last names of Anita Baldwin Oakes, daughter of E. J. "Lucky" Baldwin. It includes a residence, gymnasium, swimming pool, tennis courts, kennels and other buildings and equipment.

Boys To Earn Weeks Camping Trip Thru Kiwanis Club

Sierra Madre boys who want a weeks vacation at Jenks Lake and are willing to work for half of the expense for such a holiday have been advised by Samuel McElfresh to contact Dick Hawks at his machine shop at 123 East Montecito avenue. In the absence of McElfresh, who is vacationing, Hawks will have charge of the necessary arrangements.

These vacations are being made possible through the Kiwanis Club whose members have pledged themselves to give employment to boys who want to go to camp. Expenses for the week will be $8.80 including transportation.

Boys who have already signified their desire to go during the week of July 23-30, some of whom will earn their vacation through Kiwanis assistance, are Billy Rowe, Alfred Richter, Walter Richter, Jack Champlin, Dick Champlin, Lyle Bloom, Robert Castaneda, Mike Castaneda, Roger Smith, Charles Smith, Tom Polgreen, Robert Jenkins, Richard Jenkins, Fred Krinke, Jack Hitchcock, Richard Hauck, Robert Morgan, David Smedley, Gilbert Martinez and Rudy Martinez.

Ban On Fireworks Will Be Continued On The Fourth

Following a well established custom, Sierra Madre will be a quiet community during the Fourth of July holiday as an exodus of townspeople to neighboring vacation spots will begin Thursday evening, and an enlarged police force will be on duty Friday to insure observance of the city ordinance which prohibits the discharge of any type of fire works within the city boundaries.

According to Chief of Police Gordon McMillan and Fire Chief Wm. Richards any fire works being discharged by children will be confiscated while adults involved with such a celebration will have charges filed against them. Violations are punishable with a $50 fine or 25 days in jail.

Sierra Madre Registers 22 For Draft

Two From Here Will Be Inducted With Next District Group On July 9

Local draft board 191 at Monrovia announced yesterday that the second national R day brought 104 young men just past the age of 21 from the Sierra Madre-Arcadia-Monrovia district to register for a years service in the U.S. Army under the selective service act. Approximately 22 registered from Sierra Madre, but inasmuch as other Sierra Madreans have registered with other than their own draft board, the total number will not be known until next week. Until then names of the registrants will not be announced.

Men to be inducted from Sierra Madre for the 13th call leaving Monrovia July 9; at 9 a.m. are Earl Lindley of 634 Sturtevant drive, and Mitsuo Sam Kunihiro of 190 Merrill avenue. Lindley is the 27-year old son of Earl Lindley, automobile dealer of Pasadena, and has been employed as a guard at the Lockheed Aircraft Corp.

Kunihiro, American born Japanese is 23 years old and is the son of Mitsuo Kunihiro, owner of the Oakwood Florist Shop on Foothill blvd. He attended Sierra Madre grammar school, Wilson Junior High School and Pasadena Junior College.

Wedding Of Hazel James Ferguson Is Announced

Hazel James Ferguson, prominent resident of Sierra Madre, and William Davis Edwards of Long Beach this week announced their marriage at Wickenburg, Ariz., June 30.

Mrs. Edwards, a director of the Womens Club, is past first vice-president of the club, past Junior Advisor, and is well known here for her sponsorship and participation in dramatic and civic activities during the last six years.

Mr. Edwards is a registered civil engineer, having taken his degree at the University of Wisconsin and is now assistant superintendent of production of the California Shipbuilding Co., of Long Beach. Mr. and Mrs. Edwards are now home to their friends at 2832 Chestnut street, Long Beach.

Ward Is Reelected President Of The School Board

Edwin Ward Jr., was again elected president of the Sierra Madre School Board at a reorganization meeting held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. B. L. Hinkley, in accordance with the custom of reorganizing the board after the election of new members. Mrs. Hinkley was elected clerk, while E. E. Hitchcock, who was recently returned to the board in an uncontested election, will have charge of special committee work.

THE HITCH-HIKERS

Mankind On Threshold Of World's Greatest Crisis Sierra Madreans Told

Noted Actress Believes World On Brink Of New Horizon Or Blackout

A vision of mankind "living on the threshold of the world's greatest new horizon or the greatest blackout" was presented by Helen Gahagan, Democratic National Committeewoman, to a large assemblage which crowded the Woman's clubhouse Tuesday evening to hear sponsors of the international movement for Federal Union.

"There are three great tasks ahead of us," she said, "First, we must defend the Democracy which we have, and by that I mean we must defend it both physically and spiritually. We must wage a constant fight to defend every advance that we have made. Next, we must plan for a future in which this Democracy can go on living.

"Just now on every side we hear people saying that we won the last war, but threw away the peace. So what good did it do us to win?

"Unless we prepare now for a decent peace which will follow this war, the same thing will happen all over again, and in another 20 years implements of war will have advanced to such a degree that humanity will destroy itself."

Advocating serious consideration of Federal Union, Miss Gahagan said: "I am not now a disciple of Union Now, but I know that it is something which I must study thoroughly and quickly." She spoke inspiringly on the achievements of Democracy while at the same time pointing out the many advances which are still to be made, championed the Christian doctrine as applied to every day living, and discussed at length the possibility of obtaining an enduring world peace through establishing a federation of the established democracies.

Preceding Miss Gahagan on the program were Lee Shippey, Dr. Rodney Gale and Ralph Lindstrom.

Shippey, answering those Americans who believe in clinging to an established order even in the face of imminent disaster, declared that "we have come to the time when we can't possibly do any worse than we have been doing"; and to those who believe that human disasters are the will of God he said, "Back in the middle ages people believed that the plagues were the will of God. It was not the will of God but the stupidity of man. Science and the application of intelligence conquered the plagues, taught us to fly through the air, and sail beneath the surface of the sea. All we need are the same things applied to international problems."

Dr. Gale spoke principally on the need of international union, not designed to obliterate nationalism, but to bring the democracies into a federation which would cooperate in a way similar to that of the individual state in the American union.

Ralph Lindstrom declared that, "we stand at the crossroads, one way leads back to the jungle and the other to a new order which will dignify the individual." He spoke of the United States' responsibility for the rise of Hitlerism, through a policy of isolation following the first world war; discussed the doctrines of Lincoln in relation to the plan for Federal Union, and gave a detailed outline of the entire plan which would unite the democracies defense, currency and trade.—Margaret E. Hanson.

R C Lewis Buys Fine Mountain Site For New Home

Having recently purchased five and a half acres of the original Blumer estate at Grand View avenue and Neher drive, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Lewis are now working on plans for a new home which they hope to construct early in the fall.

The house will be designed to take advantage of the exceptionally fine view of the Sierra Madre range as well as the San Gabriel valley. It will be rambling in type with six rooms, a patio and an out-door living room. The Lewis' plan to leave the greater part of the estate as it is at the present time in order to maintain a country atmosphere.

Ask All To Join In Rededication Program

Acting on advice from Norman H. Davis, chairman of the American Red Cross, C. W. Jones, local chairman, this week urged all Sierra Madreans to tune in on the National rededication program which will be broadcast throughout the country July 4.

The program will be heard on the West Coast at 1 p.m. and will begin with a five minute speech by President Roosevelt. This will be followed by the playing of the National Anthem started by the U.S. Marine Band in Washington and picked up by bands all over the nation. Following the National Anthem, all citizens, led by the President, will repeat the oath of allegiance to the United States.

In a statement concerning the national rededication on the anniversary of American Independence President Roosevelt said:

"I commend this celebration to Americans everywhere to the end that in this solemn commemoration we may find renewed faith in the blessings which are ours because of the struggle and sacrifice, the courage and fortitude and vision of those who made this Nation a reality."

City To Join In New Move For Defense

Will Form Unit In Nationwide Movement When Plans Completed

Indication has been given by city officials that in cooperation with cities throughout the state, Sierra Madre will set up a Council for Civilian Defense during the next 60 days. Action has been deferred here pending adoption of a uniform ordinance of the State Council for Defense, of which Richard Graves, executive secretary of the California League of Cities, was recently appointed executive director by Gov. Olson.

Extensive work has been done within this county for the formulation of a unified project which will insure maximum protection in the area.

Immediate reason governing formation of the Council arises from the decision in Washington to organize in cooperation with the states, cities and counties, a National Aircraft Warning Service, involving the registration and use of thousands of citizen volunteers. While the operation of the system will be under the jurisdiction of the Interceptor Commander of the General Headquarters Air Force U.S. Army, registration of volunteers is to be handled under direction of state and local defense councils.

Local cooperation with this program requires the prompt organization of standing council committees whose functions will be to stimulate citizen interest and participation in order to secure an adequate number of volunteer registrants in the areas where the Army air force believes they are needed.

After registration, the Army air force will take charge of the training and organization of the warning service and local defense councils will be relieved of responsibility except in instances where requested by the air force.

Additional committee work will probably be concerned with health and welfare, housing, industrial resources and production, price stabilization and consumer protection, works and facilities, dealing with the adequacy of water supply, sanitation, power, and transportation facilities, and agricultural resources and production. Consummation of the entire plan will wait on action of the State Council for Defense.

Summer Forum Will Begin At Wistaria Gardens Sunday

A flower forum conducted by Maria Wilkes, and a summer season round table review of important new books including presentation of excerpts from Harold Carew's book-page analyses of international problems will be featured on the Sunday Sunset Supper program at the Wistaria Vine.

Councilman John (Pop) Froehlich will leave Sunday for a leisurely trip in the North country through Oregon, Washington and probably Western Canada.

Rev. and Mrs. O. J. Scheibe, parents of Mrs. Frederic Groetsma, left Tuesday morning for their home in Gray's Lake, Ill.

Mrs. W. L. Hibbs of 249 Ramona is expecting her sister, Mrs. W. H. McMullen of Iowa, to arrive here sometime this week for a month's visit.

Mrs. Leland Fogg left this week for an indefinite stay in Berkeley.

Roy Embree was in Los Angeles over the weekend and Bert Embree is visiting at Huntington Beach with Gordon Stinman.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kersting of Los Angeles were Wednesday night guests at the home of Mrs. Flora M. Farman of 32 East Highland avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Lieben of 632 West Montecito avenue, will visit over the Fourth of July with Mr. and Mrs. John Smurda of Brentwood Heights.

STATE GUARDSMEN WANT A WATER WAGON

To the Editor of the Sierra Madre News:

Cant' the city grade the school grounds and see that they're thoroughly sprinkled prior to each weekly State Guard drill session? The platoon members themselves, including two members of the city council, voluntarily give their time and furnish uniforms for the general good of the community, so it seems no more than fair that the community contribute this small share.

At present the dust is terrific, and for the men with any tendency to hay fever the conditions are not to be sneezed at!

The terrain is so uneven that Corporal Pratt has to leap over the gullies, while shorter guardsmen detour down one side and up the other, resulting in great confusion in the ranks when everybody meets on the other side in reverse order.

Mr. Ward has told me that the school board has no funds to attend to this matter, incidently.

We need a water wagon which will be in no danger on maneuver grounds I assure you. We have written the city council on the subject.

Dustily yours,
JOHN Q. COPELAND.

FIRE FLAMES

By One of the Boys

Because the fire department by-laws now require a member to retire at a certain age, Alois J. Karger tendered his resignation Friday evening. Karger, better known as 'Louie,' has been a member ever since the organization of the department more than 20 years ago. Always interested and willing to serve, he will be greatly missed by the men. Although the few fires that have occurred in Sierra Madre in all these past years have afforded no opportunities for any individual to stand out as a hero, Louie stood out for his alertness in responding to all alarms. It made no difference whether the fire call was at day or night, early or late, he was always among the first on the scene. To find him during a fire, one only needed to look near the busy end of the hose. He was the departments' jester as well as the most serious worker.

It is not because of his physical condition that Karger is retiring. He is still able to man the truck and to do the work. He will not stop attending the meetings. This will help the fire department for he has been appointed as the permanent "fine collector" by the chief. It's sad that there are not more like him. Here's hoping that he will continue to be with us for the next hundred years. The men voted at the last meeting to present him with a token of esteem.

Royal Care
FOR SUMMER WARDROBES

GAIN Southern California's beautiful beaches, mountain resorts and vacation haunts lure those who would escape for a time the routine of city life. And somehow, the thrill of these summer play days is intensified by the knowledge that warm weather wardrobes are complimentary to the lady and to the gentleman with their wind-blown faces and summer tan. Summer apparel, however, with its lighter materials and delicate shades, presents the problem of greater care if it's to reflect that desired fresh, crisp, immaculate appearance. The majority of Pasadena's fastidious home managers have found a simple solution to this problem. Years of experience have taught them that Royal Sanitone cleaning and the conscientious care and greater knowledge of Royal finishers are the magic combination for returning the new, fresh loveliness of even the most delicate and intricately created garment. Royal Sanitone, in addition to removing all soil and most stubborn stains, is also the greatest life insurance that can be afforded ANY MATERIAL. The reason . . . even the most fragile fabric is safe with this beauty-reviving method, because as it cleans it actually adds to the natural life-giving oils of every material. Yes, TO BE CERTAIN of that fresh, flawless appearance, remember, Royal Unexcelled cleaning for summer wardrobes. Telephone The Royal route salesman who passes your home daily. GROWING AND BUILDING

The year 1941, now half gone, promises to go down in the record books as the biggest building year in California since the 1920's, according to a survey just completed by Glenn D. Willaman, secretary of the California Real Estate Association. State building permits for the year, it is estimated, will run in excess of $440,000,000, or nearly 90 percent of all new construction on the West Coast.

California, of course, has a mighty job to do for Uncle Sam just now, with this State assigned the stupendous task of producing more than one-fifth of all the nation's defense materials. But heavy construction is only part of the story of California's building boom. "A big factor in the present building upswing," reports Mr. Willaman, "is the demand for homes and the resultant spurt in home building. California has advanced to fourth place in population since the 1940 census and we're building new homes to house new residents."

The general tenor of energetic Mr. Willaman's story is that happy days are here again—too abundantly! And in a world which has grown very grim, indeed, we're inordinately glad that the increasing din here comes from a good, old-fashioned California building boom, instead of from the rattle of machine guns.

WILL YOU HELP?

With the USO drive now underway, everyone has an opportunity to help make Uncle Sam's good army a better army.

As a way of showing its hundreds of thousands of young men that their welfare is important to all of us, the USO fund raising campaign to provide wholesome entertainment and recreational facilities for the men is worthy of unstinted support from every one of us. State Senator Robert Kenny stated a thought-provoking point when he said the other day, "Army morale is no higher nor lower than home morale. No better token of unshakable morale on the home front can be given today than by aiding the United Service Organizations' drive." For morale, as Senator Kenny pointed out, means more than courage and confidence. "It means a genuine spirit of unity and solidarity between civilians and the armed forces."

Teamwork that wins really depends on more than the team. It depends on rousing support from the bleachers who refuse to let their team down. We people here in the routing section have heard the call to do our bit.

Church Club Plans Summer Carnival

A summer carnival, sponsored by the Consenso Club of the Congregational Church, will be held on July 18, in Pritchard Hall. Dorothy Walsworth and Marjorie Peterson are the general chairmen in charge of plans and entertainment. There will be tea, fortune telling, games, music, a portrait study, and plenty of carnival food, pop, ice cream and cracker-jack. Proceeds from the event will be used for philanthropic work in the community.

WOMAN BREAKS A LEG IN SLIP FROM CURB

Mrs. Gordon R. Brooks of 77 South Lima street, has been confined to her home since last Thursday when she slipped off a curb and sustained a fractured leg.

The.... Watch Tower

By Perley Poore Sheehan

OUT in the back yard this Sunday when the squadron came roaring over—sky-blue army machines. We'd just been reading that account in the July Harpers of the young American pilots composing the Eagle Squadron of the R.A.F. — how they, day or night, play football with Death—in the Rose Bowl of the sky up there over the English Channel—miles up—earth and earthiness completely disappeared—none but the gods and the angels there to see; and how, now and then, pretty often, some player is called out—but the game goes on. Still with the thrill of this in our head and heart, as we started to say, when this squadron of our own goes over. Starred and sky-blue, flooding thunder, dazzling in the sun. The thunder, and that word ARMY painted on the underside of the wings, remaining with us—meaning battle, meaning war; meaning, this time, surely, a fight to be watched with equal breathlessness and cheering by our winged brethren in the skies.

MAKING US to feel again that old familiar gust of protest—stuffed into a physical ache—each time we hear some preacher aver that this war is but a punishment God is giving us for our sins. Was there sin in the hearts of these boys—eighteen, nineteen, twenty years of age—going up into the clouds with a perfect readiness to be maimed or killed for the sake of others? At just the age, at just such a zenith of physical perfection, when life on earth appears most alluring! Wine, women, song; books and travel and a genius for something greater even than man's love for woman! Those boys in the Eagle Squadron, and all the thousands of other boys who'd be fighting this War, they were willing to give up this, the Earth's best, for something not altogether of the Earth. The Lord Himself had said that "Greater love hath no man than..." You know the rest of it.

JUST the same, this old, old question of Sin and Punishment! If it was a question? Would it never be answered? —by the preachers?—answered for the parents of these boys, and for the boys themselves, or for the world in general? As our eyes came back to focus on nearer things we saw a black and yellow butterfly come out of the sun-haze. Aerial as a passing fancy, you would have said at first; but taking on weight, taking on substance. Later we looked up those half-remembered lines of Wordsworth: "Float near me; do not depart! Dear times re-visit in thee: Thou bringst, gay creature as thou art, a solemn image to my heart..." We knew what that solemn image was which the butterfly called up.

PSYCHE, in the old Greek myth—that same name in the Greek sufficing for both butterfly and soul; and at the same time for that goddess who was more beautiful than Venus. The old myth came to life again and took on all of its significance here in our Sierra Madre garden. This black and yellow butterfly had also led the life of a caterpillar, grubbing and earth-bound. It wasn't any conceivable act of punishment that had transformed it into the thing it now was. And so, that night, we dug up one of the old books we've hardly looked at since we were not much more than—so it seemed—ourselves, a child, the dim faint figure now of some classic myth: the book called "Classic Myths in English Literature," edited by Charles Mills Gayley, Litt. D., etc. — a book well worth its room on any man's shelf.

SAYS Dr. Gayley—who now himself is probably one of those angels engorged in the outcome of this war—"Psyche, then, is the human soul, which is purified by suffering and misfortunes, and is thus prepared for the enjoyment of true and pure happiness. It is probable that the story allegorizes a philosophical conception concerning three stages of the soul's life: first, a former existence of bliss; second, an earthly existence of trial; third, a heavenly future of fruition..."

REMINING US of what an old village priest once said to us in France, when discussing—with the utmost compassion—the poor peasants of his parish who never came to mass: "Pain purifies!" — "La douleur purifie!" Punishment, perhaps, this war. There has been sin enough—call it that! Heaven knows. But Heaven also knows, we must believe, that parable of the Atonement. Or, if not this, that old Greek allegory of Psyche and her own Pilgrim's Progress.

UNCENSORED

By LEONE BAXTER

Out of the Reich, out of Berlin, out of Herr Paul Joseph Goebbels' great office of propaganda, has come the last of those great pro-Axis, anti-world weeklies called, for no obvious reason, "Facts in Review."

The current issue is the last because its distributing agency, the German Library of Information in New York, got its orders to lock up in the same mail that brought the German Embassies their persona non grata notices.

It is of some interest, then, to note what message that last issue brought, hot off the Nazi wires. In accordance with Hitler's strange military philosophy of pointing out his objectives when he chooses, well ahead of time, Nazi "after the war" plans are disclosed in some detail.

"When the war, wantonly provoked by Great Britain, ends," declares the lead article, "the New Europe will take its rightful place in the sun."

"German diplomacy and the German sword have redrawn the map of Europe, economic organization already has begun."

"To Italy falls Dalmatia. Croatia achieves independence under an Italian Prince. Hungary retrieves territories cruelly snatched by her enemies. Rumanian's fidelity will not be forgotten."

"For geo-political and economic reasons, Bulgaria will be the leading Balkan State in the future. The New Greece, in accordance with popular will, is now punishing her war criminals and those who pushed her into the war."

"Germany's restraint in redistributing territories is not without profound influence upon her erstwhile ally, Turkey. The victory of the Axis vouchsafes for Iraq, complete liberty." And finally:

"For the first time in many centuries all the nations in Europe are beginning to realize the peace and prosperity which might have been their if they had minded their own interests. Instead of permitting the plutocratic government of Great Britain to pull the strings of her destiny."

There is the Nazi story of reward and punishment to come—with a pointed moral to top it off. It is a little unfortunate that this is the final issue of "Facts" to clear the censors. Perhaps the next might have announced Hitler's plan for final disposition of Soviet Russia—or the U.S.A.

MRS. MARY E. DAVIS

Mrs. Mary E. Davis, well known resident of this city for many years, passed away June 29 at a Los Angeles hospital. Born in Bowling Green, Mo., 80 years ago, Mrs. Davis came to California in 1922 and lived in Sierra Madre for several years.

With Dr. Arthur O. Pritchard officiating, funeral services were conducted Tuesday morning from Grant Chapel. Pallbearers were J. Milton Steinberger, Charles B. Klunk, W. D. Richards, John Shaw, James C. Heasley and Joseph Swanson. Interment was in Sierra Madre cemetery.

Mrs. Davis is survived by three sons, LaRoy Davis of 234 Santa Anita court; T. L. and C. H. Davis; one granddaughter, Miss Moreland Kortkamp and two grandsons, Perry Kortkamp of South Pasadena and Joe Davis of this city.

COUSINS MEET AFTER HALF A CENTURY

Bert Dane received a surprise visit Saturday from his cousin and wife, Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Chesley of Silver City, N. M. The cousins had not seen each other for over 49 years.

MARCH OF RIMES

By H. F. NOAKE

GADZOOKS

Oh slumbering man, the time draws nigh when thou must rise and lend thy might; for, as it looks from where we sit there comes another "finish" fight. They hover over thee in droves, like buzzards high above a bay, while thou art snoozing they descend, and presto! snatch thy jobs away. Already thou hast evidence they well can fill thy ample shoes, in each edition of the press, their names, forsooth, are making news. Yea verily thy vast domain seems not what 'twas cracked up to be; for man doth slowly abdicate and in his place appears a she. Peruse thy cabinet in Wash., where Madame Perkins fills a chair, thou should'st feel sick when turning in, "The little man who wasn't there." Canst see that women, slow but sure are on the march, their flags unfurled; and echoing their battle cry, "We'll wear the pants and rule the world." Oh slumbering man thou must come to, or else, gadzooks, will thee repent, when thou awakest up to find, some dizzy blonde is President.

Linking all the American nations from Alaska to the Argentine, that roadway has much to contribute to the welfare of the entire hemisphere as an integral part of its defense and as a stimulus to trade and travel. That these results are certain is shown by our own experience. In 1904, the United States could boast no more than 150 miles of dustless roads. Today we have more than one million miles of improved roads and more than 100,000 miles of concrete highways.

With a quarter of a million vehicles already on order, the War Department expects at least 500,000 drivers will be needed to pilot the machines in the motorized fleets of the expanding army. There is scarcely a clearer indication of the changed nature of modern warfare, and its emphasis on the mobility of fighting forces and their weapons, than a news despatch foretelling the need of half a million men alone to man the driver's wheel in today's motorized army. With 250,000 motor vehicles and 500,000 truck pilots due to find a place in the armed forces, it's evident that we have profited by at least one lesson of World War II—the need of swift, flexible transport units at the field of combat and to service defense industries on the home front.

Though admiring his optimism, we can't help feeling California was a little out of step with the trend of the times when, before the U.S. Supreme Court the other day, it sought to institute proceedings to recover $7,477,123 collected—illegally, California says—in Federal taxes in 1866, 1867, and 1868. The Supreme Court denied California's request. With his typically salty wisdom, Mr. Dooley affirmed that the Supreme Court followed the elections. It would be strange if the high court did not also follow the defense program and Uncle Sam's pressing need for cash. Today the Federal government is collecting, not dispersing, and doing so on an enormous scale. Next year, it is authoritatively estimated, Federal tax collections will present California with a bill for $750,000,000, far more than double the $315,329,000 they collected in 1940. California's 74-year-old claim will have to be written off as a loss and charged up to experience.

The country has been jolted by reports that some 40 per cent are failing the physical examination tests under the selective service program. No one can take completely the news that two out of every five young men are physically under par at a time when the are in the prime of life and should be at their fittest. What accounts for this poor showing? Various reasons have been given. Lack of proper medical care, neglected health training in home and school, and doubtless most important of all, improper or inadequate diet. On this last major question was focused the attention of 900 dieticians, nutritionists, home economists, government officials, manufacturers, and others at a recent Nutrition Conference in Washington, D.C.

Meeting a large-scale demand with a record-breaking supply, industry's urgent plea for skilled workers is now well on the road to fulfillment. Within a short period, a total of one million workers have been specially trained to meet the specific needs of defense industries. This is but another way of saying the past 12 months' program by federal, state and local educational agencies, management and labor groups, has brought vocational training in these United States

Dr. Pritchard Denies Charge That American Food Goes To Germans

Further local expression favoring the shipment of food supplies to the small democracies came this week when Dr. Arthur O. Pritchard presented the following refutation to the current assertion that American tinned milk is being used in German territory.

Says Dr. Pritchard: "Recently a report was circulated among many newspapers written by Mr. Carl B. Wall and first published in 'PM,' New York City, that milk labeled 'Libby's' and furnished by the Hoover Committee had found its way into East Prussia."

"In answer to this the commission for Polish Relief replies: 'Mr. Wall, according to his own statement, never set foot in the general government of Central Poland, the only district where the commission's relief supplies are distributed. Out of 595,152 tins of evaporated milk shipped to Poland from the United States there was not one can of Libby's milk. By a rigid system of accounting all food shipped into Poland is receipted for by the Polish Committee which administers it and their receipts are sent to New York. Up to the outbreak of hostilities between Germany and Russia, the actual losses of food stuffs has been 4/10 of one percent. These supplies are purchased by contributions from Polish residents in the United States and from the Polish Government in London. About 5,000,000 pounds of food have been distributed in Poland, largely for feeding of children, but of course this is only a drop in the bucket.'"

"Senators and Representatives are beginning to see in Washington that our attitude of non-relief to the starving (for Poland is the only country where help can be given) is gradually undermining hope in us.

IN THE ROSE BOWL TOMORROW

Art LaRue, internationally famous clown and his troupe of "Joies," circus vernacular for clowns, will again entertain at the Rose Bowl on the night of July 4. All of the pantomime acts that have endeared clowns to the hearts of circus lovers will be displayed by this troupe plus new gags that have been developed. Every type of circus act from aerial performers to trained animals, familiar to the big top has been secured for this annual outdoor performance. Following the circus there will be a full hour of fireworks display, including huge set pieces, star shells, sky-rockets and aerial bombs. The show will be staged by the Pasadena fire department which stages a thrilling two-hour show every Fourth of July.

YOUR HOME
AND MINE
BY ANNE WILSONAs It Appears
To me

¶ Once again the drowsy movement to erect a flag pole down town is going through its semi-annual awakening. Here at the NEWS we are being asked to get behind a Flag drive and raise the necessary funds.

¶ Perhaps we could take the whole thing more seriously if townspeople were a little more constant. Either we want a downtown Flag or we don't. If we do let's get together and make some practical arrangements. If we don't let's stop talking about how inspiring it would be to have OLD GLORY rippling in the breeze over Kersting Court.

¶ Belonging in that group of Americans who instinctively shun "flag waving" we were nevertheless deeply impressed by the beauty of the Flag floating against the night sky over the Lincoln Memorial at the Rose Bowl commencement last week, and again at the Rose Bowl on Sunday when we sat listening to Leopold Stokowski's All American Youth Orchestra in a program almost entirely German.

¶ As long as there is nationalism in the world there will be flags, and perhaps even longer. At the moment we can think of no other flag which stands for finer ideals than the one under which we live. However many dark mistakes we have made during the last 150 years, and are still making, they have been no greater and often much less terrible than those made by other nations throughout the world. No country can look truthfully at its history without shame, yet though apparently wavering at times, we are still groping toward our American ideal, and some of us might travel a little more consistently with a bit of visual aid.

¶ In any event, we at the NEWS are willing to do our share if you members of the Kiwanis, American Legion and Auxiliary, V.F.W., Sierra Madre Women's Club Seniors and Juniors, Chamber of Commerce, and interested people generally want to assist. All contributions should be made to Tom Schwartz, who will also have all necessary information.

¶ An interesting letter arrived this week from Robert Lewis Vieira who is with the 11th Field Artillery at Schofield barracks near Honolulu. He finds Honolulu weather very much like that of Sierra Madre, Island trains of the type used about 1910, and seems to find the restriction against furloughs (which come only after two years Island service) quite acceptable.

¶ Most startling question shot at us recently came when we remarked in the presence of the chief of police that we particularly like the type of gardenias grown in some Sierra Madre gardens, and instantly had to present an alibi for the night of June 21. It appears that gardenias in the W.S. Hull garden were so irresistible that some of the younger generation went to the firemen's dance wearing stolen beauties. Just so you won't be unnecessarily worried, we did have an alibi.

¶ In line with good sense and inter-community progress is the proposal from the County Planning Commission for the changing of street names throughout the county. Identical naming of streets has resulted in such hopeless confusion for the post office, business establishments and visitors that in order to preserve some semblance of sanity the commission is undertaking the really tough job of removing a few Santa Anitas, Michilindas and Bonitas from the county street maps. We know that parting with a well loved and established name is not a matter to be taken lightly, but in the interest of humanity let us not cling to a custom which only makes the general confusion more complex.—Margaret Elvason.

HOOKS A FISH DINNER

Jr. Women Honor
Outgoing Members;
Arrange Parties

The seasons' final meeting of the Sierra Madre Junior Woman's Club on June 19, at the clubhouse, culminated in a party honoring the outgoing members who will become members of the Senior Club. Prizes were awarded for the games played, and refreshments were served. Part of the evening was spent in making plans for a costume barn dance which will be given by the Juniors on August 16.

An announcement was made concerning the card parties to be held every other Thursday during the summer, starting July 3, at 8 p.m. in the clubrooms upstairs. The public is invited to attend these parties at which table prizes will be given, followed by a grand prize at the end of the summer.

Side Glances
and Soliloquies

by Libby Trimble

Mysterious happenings and baffling silences are disturbing the equanimity of the town this week. Ament the speed with which Hazel Ferguson packed her tooth-brush and her furniture and pulled out of town, headed for Long Beach with a gleam in her eye, a grin, and nary a word concerning plans, ultimate destination, etc. She has rented her home here.

Also long and heavy silence from Gordon McMillan in regard to the books he received in the mail entitled "The Mystery of the Dead Police."

A recent conversation with a Laguna lad enlightened us as to the opinion of some of the younger generation Californians on the subject of Eastern women, when he remarked that he didn't like to go to school in the East because all the girls looked ghastly with their pale faces and blood-red lipstick. "Give me a girl with a healthy look," he said. "Those others don't look alive." . . . I'll bet he never tried taking a sun bath during a blizzard. . . . Even so, I doubt if they look much worse than many of the various townfolk who tripped to the beach over the weekend for a snooze in the nice warm sand.

We have taken a second-hand tour of the United States these past weeks, just sitting here in front of the typewriter following on paper the routes taken by vacationers. Summer is a lovely time for travel. . . . it seems to bring out our Gypsy blood and the urge for the outdoors. We no longer devote so much precious time to bridge, poker, rummery and whatnot. That is if we ever did.

A scheme almost foolproof and one which is an absolute guarantee in this matter of pinching pennies comes from the brain of a man whose philosophy of life lies in the well known phrase, "The line of least resistance." "When I think I can't do without something any longer," he explains, "I wait a week. . . . You'd be surprised how well it works."

As befits a true child of nature, he bathes only during the warmer season. As he puts it, "When God warns the water I reckon that's when he wants us to have a bath." He opens wide his windows during lunch and lets the flies swarm in. "So they won't bother my afternoon nap. If you let 'em get their fill of food they don't bite so hard."

Frem "The Desk Draw Anthology," edited by Alice Roosevelt Longworth and Theodore Roosevelt and published by the Doubleday Doran Company in 1937, comes these anonymous verses. . . .

THE THREE WOUNDS
I would I were beneath a tree,
A-sleeping in the shade,

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel McElfresh began a month's vacation Thursday, when they left for Arrowhead from where they will proceed to Oakland. Mrs. McElfresh will be a delegate to the biennial convention of Delta Phi Upsilon, honorary professional fraternity of early childhood education, which will be held in Oakland July 7 and 8, immediately preceding the national convention of the Association for Childhood Education which will be held there through July 12.

Mrs. McElfresh is a graduate of Broadview school in Pasadena and a former president of the Grand Alpha Chapter of Delta Phi Upsilon. Her name is being presented as national vice presidential candidate for the coming year.

"DINNER AT EIGHT" AT THE PLAYHOUSE NEXT

In your newspaper's society columns it would merely say that so-and-so was entertaining at a dinner party and the guests would be listed. But written on each plate card at such an affair could be a story teeming with drama. "Dinner at Eight," the famous Edna Ferber-George S. Kaufman smash comedy-drama, coming to Pasadena Community Playhouse stage, July 7-12, goes behind the casual newswires to weave ten dinner guests into a play packed with punches.

High School Boys May Qualify Now As Army Air Pilots

The sticks of Army Air Corps planes, until now exclusively in the hands of officers, were given in part this week to enlisted men.

High school graduates ambitious to become Army pilots now have their chance. Even if their educational qualifications do not admit of their becoming officers, they may still fly Army airplanes and may look forward to careers as pilots. The flying no-com has been part of the British and German air forces for years, but he is something new in the U.S.A.

The field is now open to applicants. Training will start as soon after July 4th as administrative details can be arranged. Men who qualify will be taught to fly, they will be paid while learning, and after graduation their future will be assured.

Eventually, one out of five Army Air Corps pilots may be a man who has risen from the ranks to become a noncommissioned officer. Applicants between the ages of 19 and 22 years, inclusive, will be given preference.

A Few Pennies

... a day

... that's all it takes to assure your family the continuation of your income—month after month—through a SALARY EXTENSION POLICY. Those few pennies, wisely invested, may indeed be "pennies from heaven" for those loved ones who now depend on your earnings.

Let us explain, without obligation, how you may secure this family protection.

Call Mrs. L. McCarty—TR. 5-778 or write me at 1216 Commercial Exchange Bldg., Los Angeles, Calif.

Arcadia Team Battered By All-Stars

One of the season's greatest events for Kiwanis Recreation children under 16 years of age was voted a complete success by the 26 boys who were guests of the Hollywood Base Ball Club at Wrigley Field last Saturday. Accompanied by local Kiwanians the boys left here in a city truck at 12:30 p.m. for the Hollywood-Sacramento game. They arrived home at 6:15. Another trip to Wrigley Field has been arranged for some Saturday in August.

Proving that they are not flash in the pan players the Kiwanis All Stars, overwhelmed the Merget team of Arcadia Friday night by a score of 27 to 4 in a game at the school grounds. The box score follows:

Legionnaires Pass Up Nominations To Have A Good Time

A dinner preceding the semi-monthly meeting was served members and guests of the American Legion Post 297 last Thursday, June 19th. The dinner was arranged by present Commander Vincent Hoegee. Guests included Mayor Schiltz, Colonel H. B. Hersey, Art Udell, Major Aughton, commander of American Legion Post 13 of Pasadena; Steve Vopatic, district chairman and a resident of Sierra Madre, the orchestra of the Pasadena firemen led by Eddie Brubaker.

The swell dinner was to be the prelude to nomination of officers, but nominations were held over until the next regular meeting at the 'dugout' tonight. This was adjudged by those present as one of the most enjoyable evenings experienced at the Legion meetings.

The gathering was enlivened by the gay 90's music of Eddie Brubaker and his band which was greatly strengthened by the saxophone and clarinet playing of Charlie Foster. The gathering cheered loudly when Mayor Schiltz and Col. Hersey sang loudly at the piano when Eddie played those songs from away back. —Charlie Foster.

Local Youth Wins A Commission In The Army Air Corps

George F. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Smith, 11 North Mt. Trail, Sierra Madre, has been appointed a second lieutenant in the Army Air Corps at Stockton Field, California.

Lt. Smith graduated from the bombardment course at Lowry Field, Colo., and has been undergoing further study at Stockton. He will be assigned in his new capacity as an instructor in the ground school at Stockton Field. He attended Pasadena Junior College and visited his friend and parents here on a recent furlough from Lowry Field. While attending PJC he was a part time employee of THE NEWS.

Drive Carefully; Be Sane On The Fourth Red Cross Asks

In cooperation with 3700 Red Cross Chapters throughout the Nation, C. W. Jones, Sierra Madre chairman, yesterday sounded an appeal to all Sierra Madrenes to "live and enjoy our Independence Day."

"In July, 1940, highway accidents took a toll of 9860 lives," said Mr. Jones. "That number will be even higher this year unless every American pledges himself to rules of safety."

The following suggestions have been issued by the Red Cross to holiday makers: drive carefully, enjoy your lunch, but wait until it has digested before you swim; swim in waters that have been tested for safe bathing and are well guarded; remember that canoes and boats demand skilled handling. They are death traps for the novice. Avoid firecrackers; they cause more injuries than thrills.
